

What would you tell someone if they asks you who you are?
(list 5 things)

What do you hope people feel about you when they get to know you?

What are values that define you as a person?

What colour do you think fits you best as a person?

What colour do people think fits you best if they see in the street, without talking to you?

What do people think of you if they see you in the street without talking to you?